WIBA Hosts Seminar on Environmental and Safety Issues in the Office

WICHITA, Kan., September 11, 2007 . . . The Wichita Independent Business Association (WIBA) will host the seminar, "Environmental and Safety Issues in the Office," on Wednesday, September 19, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The seminar will be led by Alan DeMoss, Safety Engineer and Consulting Manager for iSi Environmental Services, and Gary Mason, Environmental Engineer and CEO for iSi.

This presentation will discuss typical safety and environmental concerns in the average office work place. General safety regulations enforced by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) requires anyone who hires an employee to comply with these requirements. The most common violated regulations will be presented. In addition there are a variety of environmental regulations that can impact a typical business. The presentation will cover these items including: asbestos, lead paint, refrigerants, light bulbs, used oil, computer waste.

iSi Environmental Services is a full-service environmental, health, and safety (EHS) services firm that provides cost-effective solutions and services to the business and government sectors. Founded in 1990, iSi has grown to more than 80 employees, providing services throughout the United States.

The cost to attend is $35 for WIBA members, $45 for non-members and $25 for students. The cost to attend includes a box lunch. Reservations are requested by Monday, September 17. To reserve a place at the seminar, please call WIBA at 316.267.8987 or e-mail reservations@wiba.org. The seminars will take place at WIBA headquarters – 445 N. Waco.
